PENN STATE WINS IN FOURTH INNING

Defeats Crippled Washington and Lee Team by Score of 6 to 2.

Lynchburg, Va., April 9.—Penn State took the second game in the fourth inning, when two men were down. Eberline lined a ball over the fence. Three more hits and an error saw three additional runners come home, winning the game. Wardwell, for the visitors, pitched a nice variety of ball and kept the hits well scattered, and received spectacular support from the men behind him. Blythe carried out the batting honors, with three hits out of four times up.

Washington and Lee was crippled considerably by Smith's absence from second. Moran acting as substitute, and in the third Donahue split his finger, and Tryman finished the game. Donahue may be out of the game for a week. The defenders were not exactly up on their work, as six errors show. The outfield was slow and uncertain. With the exception of the fatal fourth, Malcolm pitched an excellent game and deserved more than he got.

RIVAL SLAB ARTISTS STRIKE OUT 26 MEN

Rare Pitchers' Duel Between Rixey, of Virginia, and Hightower, of Cornell—Southerners Win by Game Rally in Ninth.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Charlottesville, Va., April 9.—A big crowd, including many visiting girls and alumni here for the Easter week games, saw Virginia make a game ninth-inning rally to-day, and vanquish Cornell by a score of two to one.

The contest was a rare pitcher's duel between Rixey and Hightower, star twirlers of their respective teams, who between them struck out a total of twenty-six batsmen. These premier slab artists seemed to be in mid-season form, and held the center of the stage until the ninth inning. The one run made by the Ithacans in the seventh on a fumble by Hightower looked as big as a house when Virginia came up for her final turn at bat. Neff indignantly whiffed, but Captain Carter trotted to first when one of Hightower's curves struck him in the back. Fitchett went out on strikes, but in the meanwhile Carter pilfered second. Grant was sent in to bat for Hewitt, and the hero of the Yale game made good with a corking drive to center, sending Carter home and tying the score. Landes, the next batter up, broke up the game with a scorching hit to center. McMorris romping home from second with the winning run. The crowd rose and cheered the team for several minutes.

Although the fielders were given few chances, there were three or four clever plays that kept the crowd on edge. With Finlay on third, Isett robbed Virginia of a tally in the third inning, when he raced back of second base and scooped up Poughkeepsie's big grounder in time to head the runner off at first. Pertinent Comment

By GUS MALBERT.

When Buffalo arrives this afternoon for the first of a two-game series with the Colts, the visitors will find a crowd of youngsters, not only ready, but actually eager for battle. They have arrived at that stage of the training season when they are ready and anxious to tackle any kind of an aggregation, from the majors to the bushest of bushers. This confidence has largely been spread, because of the sympathy shown by the fans in the several exhibitions thus far played. No reasonable creature would expect the Colts to beat a club in the big leagues, or in the class A leagues, as a matter of fact, and that is why the youngsters are willing to take chances. The game this afternoon will find Brad and Cambridge on the mound, with Thacker and Mac alternating in the padded coil. Cable may play short, that is, if he is well enough.

The youngster became ill yesterday morning during practice, and Griffin sent him home so that he could be properly doctored. He is full of pep, however, and wouldn't stay sick very long. He feels that he will be able to get into the mixup this afternoon.

McFarland, some time manager of the Palace Bowling Alleys, has finally succumbed to the siren call of baseball, and will report to-day to Al Newnam, manager of the locals in the United States League. Steve Griffin wanted the ball player, but Newnam offered him better inducements, and so he will work out in Suffolk. By the way, all of the players should be in the pen to-day. Eighteen in all will be on the playing lot, nineteen really as McFarland makes the nineteenth, including the manager. This number will increase within a few days, as several new men have been signed. McFarland, for the year, he has been in baseball, or rather in connection with ball clubs, follows: 1900-01, Chicago, American League; 1902, Baltimore, American League; 1903, New York, American League; 1905-06-06, Baltimore, Eastern League; 1907-08, Tri-State League; 1909, Wilkes-Barre, 1910, Virginia League.

Rumor has it that the big league clubs will cut out the spring training trips in the future. It might not be a bad plan. From a purely baseball standpoint, these trips have never appealed to the writer. As a professional matter they are well worth the price. Getting into condition is rather more of a duty to the ball player than the average fan can conceive. It takes time, but it also produces the best results. The player has abused himself to such an extent during the winter months that he requires a process of boiling out in the spring before he is able to take the work by which he earns his pay. This is a reflection on the player. It is dollars to doughnuts that if no club in any league took a trip away from home in the early spring, he would be in just as good condition, and the games would be relatively just as fast as they are now under the elaborate programs carried out.

Reports from Suffolk will make interesting matter from now on. There

DAVIDSON LOSES TO WAKE FOREST

Wake Forest, N. C., April 9.—In a game featured by a sensational catch by Correll of Graham's Texas leaguer to left field, Wake Forest defeated Davidson College this afternoon by the score of 5 to 1. Underwood won on the mound for Wake Forest, and kept the opposing batters at his mercy. Their only run was made in the ninth, after two men were out, and this on a hit and two errors.

Davidson worked three men in the box, and each kept the hits well scattered. Not a hit was obtained on Siler in four innings, though four men took free trips to first. Wake Forest stole bases at will, a total of eight being pilfered, two of which came in a double steal.

In the first inning Underwood walked two men, then struck out the side. The two features of the game were the catch of Correll and the fielding of Klutz, of Davidson.

New Reduced Net Prices for users of United States Tires

CONSUMERS' PRICES
Plain Tread, Clincher, Quick Detachable or Dunlop

SIZE	CASING	TUBE
32 x 3 1/2	$21.70	$4.65
34 x 4	33.60	6.40
36 x 4	35.80	6.70
36 x 4 1/2	45.20	8.30
36 x 5	55.50	9.70

This price reduction on America's leading brand of tires is much more significant than may appear on the surface.

The motorist could well afford to pay the former prices for tires made as only United States Tires are made. For our well known method of combining the best features of four famous brands in one superior grade of tire practically puts United States Tires in a class by themselves.

Therefore, the important feature of this announcement is not the mere price reduction on tires but the price reduction on tires of the United States kind.

Here are three immensely important facts about United States Tires

The First Fact United States Tires are made by a co-operative method that is unique in automobile tire manufacturing.

The Second Fact You can buy United States Tires in any style you prefer—Dunlop (straight side), Quick Detachable and Clincher. Four different treads—Plain, Bailey, Nobby, and Chain.

The Third Fact It costs no more to buy these four-factory-method tires than you are asked to pay for other kinds. This opportunity to secure extra value without extra cost will appeal to motorists who are wedded to no other tire but the most economical tire it is possible to buy.

In four of the largest and best equipped tire factories in the world four corps of tire specialists are working as a unit to give to the motorist, in United States Tires, the highest grade tire their combined skill can produce.

It is precisely as if the motorist, desiring an ideal tire, should contract with four leading tire manufacturers to build a tire that would actually combine every element of strength and every secret of manufacture known to the four companies.

Style is a matter of fancy; but satisfactory service is a matter of quality.

Cable went back to the bench after a few laps had been turned and fainted dead away. He was not discovered for several minutes. After being revived he was sent home, where he recovered. It is thought that the fainting was due to a weakened system. If he is better to-day he will work against Buffalo this afternoon.
